

2018 PROJECT: DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION CHAT

Seven conversations with people in the tech industry on their career stories and DI topics. Project by Rachel Chen with special thanks to Grant Chinn.

IDENTITY

“I often go to diversity events. As a Vietnamese descent and a female engineer, I don’t always see us represented.”

- Christine P.

CAREER ADVICE

“Keep asking questions. Why are we doing this? How can we truly address needs? There are never enough questions to ask.”

- Jessica T.

CAREER ADVICE

“Rely on your passion to guide you. Remember, you love what you do, and that’s enough to continue pushing you forward.”

- Vicki C.

IDENTITY

“As an international, non-native speaking, female student, I doubted my ability to compete with other groups of students.”

- Yulin L.

BEING AN ALLY

“It’s important to reach out to communities. Understanding how you can support them will go a long way.”

- Alexis D.

BEING AN ALLY

“When something comes up and you can be a voice for somebody, speak up. Help [guide] them so they can be heard.”

- Alex T.

BEING AN ALLY

“Be present, be there, be an ally. Learn, listen, ask questions. Be open, be vulnerable. There’s a lot of benefit in listening.”

- Alex L.
