

The Work, Racial Equity, and Wellness Project

Tiffany D. Johnson, PhD
Scheller College of Business
2020-2021

1. Objective:

- To develop a class and research program that explores the historical, present-day, and future intersections of work, racial equity, and wellness.

2. Outcomes:

- I developed the course syllabus and materials.
- I marketed the course to 3 colleges and initiatives on GA Tech campus.
- I started a longitudinal research project related to the course materials.

3. Next Steps:

- I will begin teaching the new Work, Equity, and Wellness course to MBA students in Summer 2021, and I will then offer it to Undergraduate students in Spring 2022.
- I would like to offer a PhD seminar and a Speaker Series in the future.

WORK, RACIAL EQUITY, AND WELLNESS PROJECT

TIFFANY D. JOHNSON, PHD